

The Stars Speak

by Angela Riley

Questions to consider, discuss or journal.

Have you ever wondered at a star-filled sky? What was the experience like? How did you feel?

“The heavens proclaim the glory of God. The skies display his craftsmanship. Day after day they continue to speak; night after night they make him known. They speak without a sound or word; their voice is never heard. Yet their message has gone throughout the earth, and their words to all the world.” Psalm 19:1-4
